Hi Sarah,

You technically have until the 15th of each month to enter client data into the system for the prior month, so you have until April 15th to enter client data for the month of March. At the moment, it's looking like I will be in meetings all week, but I would be happy to get you set up in the A2A system on Monday if you are available.

Thanks,

Emily Kraft

Good morning –

I will need a little more information – what data input are you referring to?

Hello,

The person at our agency who is responsible for putting the data into the system has a family emergency and I am taking over in the time being. What is the time frame I have to input the data for each month? What is the deadline for the month of March? I was told we only had a few days to do so and I am assuming this is business days.

Thank you!
